

ConneXions Leader Training #1 & #2

Building Healthy Leaders (BHL) &

Doing Design (DD)

Dear fellow pastor leaders in the Lord,

Since I became a pastor in 1981, I have been involved in developing leaders. I believe that building leaders — especially building healthy leaders is one of the most important needs and responsibilities we have in the church today.

Early 2007, I was introduced to a leadership model (not a program): the ConneXions Model. It has set leader development to a higher bar, impacted our whole church and mission approach in Asia.

This model gives (1) a new goal covering five dimensions of leader development; (2) a practical way of designing relevant processes to achieve the said goal. The process of building healthy leaders must be spiritual, relational, experiential and instructional. It is both complex and challenging in designing the process.

Please let's join hands and learn together how we can build healthy leaders through the ConneXions Model. It would work best if you can bring one other leader to attend the workshop with you. Leaders are built in community. We are convinced that this training not only will benefit you but also it will benefit the next generation of leaders you are building into.
