1) Overseas missions are dependant upon the teams serving in a united manner both together and with the receiving church/ministry.

While there are needs requiring appeal of direction or action, the witness of the team (as seen in John 13:34-35) is as important to the effectiveness of the mission as the labor itself. Following leadership is a key component of that unity. Below is a declaration of your commitment to Biblical submission: I understand the importance of following the leadership of both my team leader and any in-country leaders for this mission trip. I am committed to submitting to their Biblical leadership and following all team directives.

2) This mission trip will undertake a project to eternally benefit the people of the city and country where your team will serve. While the project may focus on any number of different objectives, it will be imperative that each team member dedicate themselves to the equipping, roles, and on-site efforts with full dedication. As such, an agreement of mission commitment is given here: I recognize that the mission project on which I serve has significant spiritual implications. Therefore, I commit to engage fully in all equipping times and material, in whatever role I am asked to play and in the itinerary of activities for our mission team while on-site.

3) We in e3 Leadership Group are excited about the work God is doing overseas, and encouraged by people who are willing to go and serve those of other nations. e3LG takes very seriously the responsibility for the care and protection of each short term team (STM) member during the time of the scheduled trip. However, if an STM team member chooses to extend his/her time of travel, or to engage in activities outside the scope of the STM, either before, during, or after the scheduled STM trip, then e3LG will not be responsible for those expanded travels or activities. The following is given as your statement of release from liability: I release e3LG, all of its agents and other persons and/or organizations, from any and all liability that may result from travel and/or activities beyond or outside the scope of the scheduled STM trip.
